Orgill/Singer & Associates, Inc., is reflecting on its progress, evolving from a small, locally owned business into one of Las Vegas' largest and most respected independent insurance brokerage firms in Nevada, now licensed in most states. A four-time winner of the "Best Places to Work" award from the Southern Nevada Human Resources Association, Orgill/Singer is distinguished as a company that fosters a positive work environment and encourages professional and personal growth among its employees. Led by Chief Executive Officer David Dahan, President Eric Springall and Chief Operating Officer Eamon Springall, Orgill/Singer has evolved into a progressive and forward-thinking company recognized for its excellence in service since 1986.

The firm's mission statement is based on a "Tradition of Caring," which is evident in every business and charitable decision made. At Orgill/Singer, customer satisfaction and one-on-one personalized service motivates all employees in every transaction and business dealing from the beginning of a policy until the last signature. All of their clients receive the same superior communication and access to diverse resources and value-added benefits. Not only does Orgill/Singer offer a broad range of services to any size client, the forward-thinking and shared vision of the firm's management have brought forth creative ways to put the power of education into the hands of its clients. To that end, Orgill/Singer now offers a revolutionary, time-saving online client portal that allows clients access to information and resources needed to solve everyday problems with a few keystrokes.

Orgill/Singer continues to invest in technology to empower its staff with necessary tools, education, training and resources. By utilizing technologically advanced software, the firm operates its systems and processes in the most modernized and streamlined way possible to benefit clients. The firm's divisions are Employee Benefits, Business and Commercial Insurance, Bonds, Physicians & Dentists Services, Personal Life & Health, Financial Services, Auto and Home.

Supported by a storied history, solid management, visionary leadership, an esteemed reputation and a loyal staff, Orgill/Singer & Associates intends to lead the insurance industry into the future with more innovative and revolutionary products and partnerships to come.
